Kingdom Engagement of the Culture for the Sake of the Mission of the Church

Our Story

Our culture continues to chip away at America's most basic religious liberties, despite the protections of the First Amendment. Consider the deconstruction of marriage, the cheapening of life, and a public education system increasingly hostile to the Judeo-Christian worldview.

For the sake of our communities and the church, we must engage! Such engagement must be on God's terms. God engages the world in two ways—to preserve it and to save it. Two Kingdoms, yet one mission—to bless the world now and forever.

Reverend Mark Frith

Network Director, Champions for Religious Liberty

Reverend Mark Frith, is dedicated to equipping leaders and aiding churches and individuals in realizing their divine missions. Leveraging his extensive 30-year experience spanning ministry, media, and management, he's served in multiple roles including pastor, coach, program director, and business owner. He possesses a Master's degree from Concordia Seminary and a Bachelor's degree from Concordia University-St. Paul.

The Lutheran Center for Religious Liberty (LCRL)

LCRL is a religious liberty organization in Washington, D.C. The Center provides input, education, advice, advocacy, and resources in the areas of life, marriage and religious liberty and seeks to engage in discussions in Washington, D.C., to establish partnerships and resources in our nation's Capital for the sake of our churches, schools, universities and seminaries.
